Ask your partner:

- How do you feel about dance clubs?
- Is dancing a popular pastime in your country? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Vanessa gets a call from Peter. What does he want to do?

* When you receive a phone call from someone, you "get a call".

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Before we go, I'll have to lie down - I'm so full! Isn't that your phone?
Vanessa: Oh, yeah. It's buried in my bag. Hello?
Peter: Hey Vanessa, it's Peter. What's up?
Vanessa: I'm just finishing up a picnic lunch with Sally. How are you?
Peter: I'm good. I'm not sure what you're doing tonight, but I'm wondering if you want to come out dancing with me?
Vanessa: Dancing?! I don't know why you would want to dance with me! I'm not a very good ...
Peter: Oh, come on! Shake a tail feather! I want to check out this new club that opened up last week. It's called Shimmer.
Vanessa: Before I go out anywhere, I'll have to find the right shoes and dress to wear.
Sally: You can borrow something of mine!
Peter: If you decide on something, I'll pick you up at -
Vanessa: Oh, no! My battery died!
Sally: Here, use mine ... wait, I don't have any minutes left!
Vanessa: Do you know where this new club is that Peter is talking about? If I decide to go, I'll just meet him there.
Sally: I'm not sure ... Do you remember what the name is?
Vanessa: Shimmer.

Learning Points

Talking About the Future - If, When, Before and After

You use time clauses to give information about time and sequence.

You use the words If, When, Before and After in time clauses.

You use the first conditional with these time clauses.

If/When/Before/After + Subject + Simple Present tense, Subject + will/be going to + Simple Present tense

Before means at an earlier time.

After means at a later time.

Before I go to sleep, I'll set my alarm.

After I set my alarm, I'm going to go to sleep.

If means on the condition that ...

If I go to sleep, I'll set my alarm. (I'm not sure that I'll go to sleep.)

When means at the time of doing something.

When I go to bed, I'll set my alarm.

Examples:

- Before we go, I'll have to lie down.
- If I decide to go, I'll just meet him there.
- If you decide on something, I'll pick you up.

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification and Emphasizing a Point

You ask for clarification when you want more details on what the other person is talking about.

You ask for clarification when it is not clear what the other person is referring to. You ask the other person to be more specific by giving you more information.

Questions within sentences are called embedded questions.

An embedded question is a question included in another question or statement.

Example:

Simple question: What are you going to do after dinner?

Embedded question: Do you know what you're going to do after dinner?

Examples:

- I don't know why you would want to dance with me!
- Do you know where this new club is that Peter is talking about?
- Do you remember what the name is?
