

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

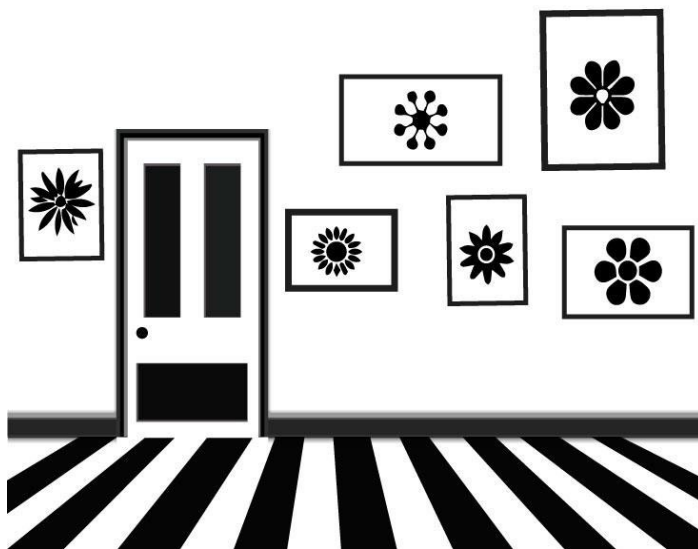

CONTENT

• Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's pop in at the art gallery.

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you enjoy visiting the art gallery? Why or why not?
- Who are some famous artists from your country?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about social activities using if, when, before or after.
- I can show I understand someone's feelings or situation.
- I can ask for clarification.

Let's Explore!

Sally and Vanessa visit the art gallery. Who is Ai Wei Wei?

* "Ai Wei Wei" is pronounced I way way.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Let's pop in at the art gallery. Can you remind me who the artist you wanted to see is?
- Vanessa: Ai Wei Wei. Do you remember where he's from?
- Sally: China! Yes, I remember now.
- Vanessa: When we get there, I'll quiz you.
- Sally: Before you do, I'll read up online about him.
- Sally: Wow, this is really imaginative stuff! He must be brilliant! I love seeing art installations. After we walk through the show, I'll have to buy a souvenir.
- Vanessa: I know what you mean. If we come to the gallery again, we'll have to see the Douglas Coupland exhibit.
- Sally: Could you tell me again who that is?
- Vanessa: Oh, Sal. You must feel really silly right now ...
- Sally: Well, unlike you, I don't read about artists in my spare time!
- Vanessa: Do you remember when you were in Europe and you visited all those museums? You must be an art connoisseur by now!
- Sally: Hardly!
- Vanessa: You should come to an art workshop with me sometime. It's really enlightening. There are so many artists out there!
- Sally: A workshop?! You must be desperate for a social life.

Let's Practice!

Sally and Vanessa talk about enjoying art and artists.

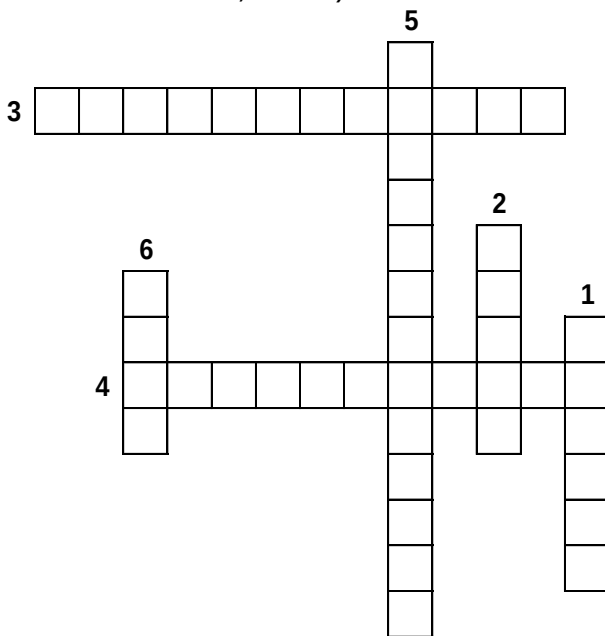

Instructions: Complete the crossword. First, read the clues. Then, write your answer.

Down

1. B_____e you can be an art connoisseur, you need to know a lot about art.
2. After we have lunch, we will p____n at the gallery.
5. When we come back next time, there will be new art i____s.
6. After you read about Ai Wei Wei, I'll q____z you on his life.

Across

3. If you learn about the artist's life, seeing the art is more e____g.
4. I really like Ai Wei Wei. His work is so i____e.

Let's Practice!

The artist's life is complicated. Could you clarify that please?

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. wanted / artist / you / see / remind / the / me / you / to / Can / who / is?

_____.

2. is? / who / me / Could / that / you / tell / again

_____.

3. where / you / Do / from? / he's / remember

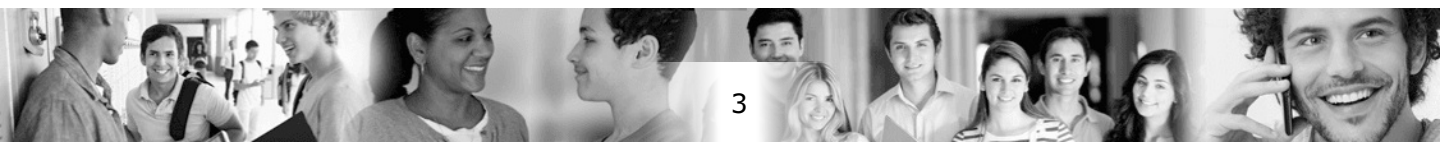

_____.

4. when / you / in / you / were / remember / Europe? / Do

_____.

5. tell / me / title / Can / is? / you / what / this / the / painting / of

_____.

Extension Activity

Research an artist and share information with a partner.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Do research on the Internet about an artist of your choice and make notes.
- Write down six interesting facts about the artist.
- Get information about your partner's artist by asking questions for clarification.
- Share your research with your partner by answering their questions.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I find information on the internet.

☐ ☐

I ask questions for clarification.

☐ ☐

I give information about an artist.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to pop in (verb): to go into a place (a building)
e.g. Let's pop in at the art gallery.
- to read up (verb): to read about someone or something e.g. I'll read up online about him.
- to quiz (verb): to test someone about something e.g. When we get there, I'll quiz you.
- art installation (noun): an artistic exhibit that transforms a space
e.g. I love seeing art installations.
- imaginative (adjective): showing creativity
e.g. Wow, this is really imaginative stuff!
- connoisseur (noun): an expert judge of a particular topic
e.g. You must be an art connoisseur by now!
- enlightening (adjective): giving someone knowledge
e.g. Workshops are really enlightening.
- workshop (noun): a meeting where people talk and learn about a certain subject e.g. You should come to an art workshop with me sometime.

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification and Emphasizing a Point

You ask for clarification when you want more details on what the other person is talking about.

You ask for clarification when it is not clear what the other person is referring to. You ask the other person to be more specific by giving you more information.

You can use a question at the beginning of a statement or question to ask for clarification like: Don't you think ... ?

Questions within sentences are called embedded questions.

Example:

Simple question: What are you going to do after dinner?

Embedded question: Do you know what you're going to do after dinner?

Look at the chart below for an explanation on how to make embedded questions.

Direct Question	Embedded Question
Do you know ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Do you remember ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Can you tell me ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?
Could you tell me ...	what/where/when/who/ ... ?

Examples:

- Can you remind me who the artist you wanted to see is?
- Do you remember where he's from?
- Could you tell me again who that is?

Learning Points

Showing You Understand Someone's Feelings or Emotions

In conversation, it is natural to show that you understand someone's feelings and emotions. It helps to use different kinds of structures and expressions.

You can use the structures:

You ought to be/must be + adjective

It ought to be/must be + adjective

You've/It's got to be + adjective

I'm sure that's/you're + adjective

Aren't you + adjective?

You can also use these expressions:

I get it.

I know what you mean.

I hear you.

Examples:

- You must feel really silly right now ...
- I know what you mean.
- You must be desperate for a social life.

